Lantech Intelligent Network Connection® | LINC®

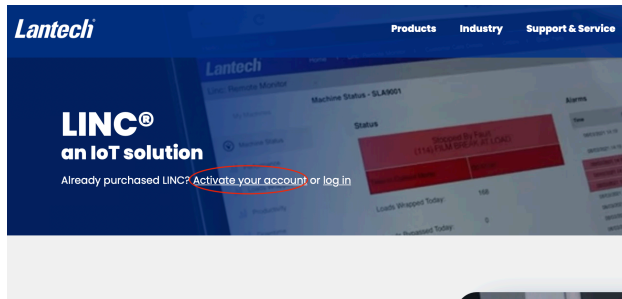

Activation Instructions

If you are the first person at your site to access the LINC portal, please fill out the account activation form accessible from lantech.com/linc (click the activate account button):

Or scan/click the QR code above. Upon account request approval, you will receive an email with instructions to activate your new LINC subscription as an admin. Please allow us 3-5 business days to review your request. Note: You will not enter your subscription period until your first successful login to the portal or otherwise stated in your subscription agreement.
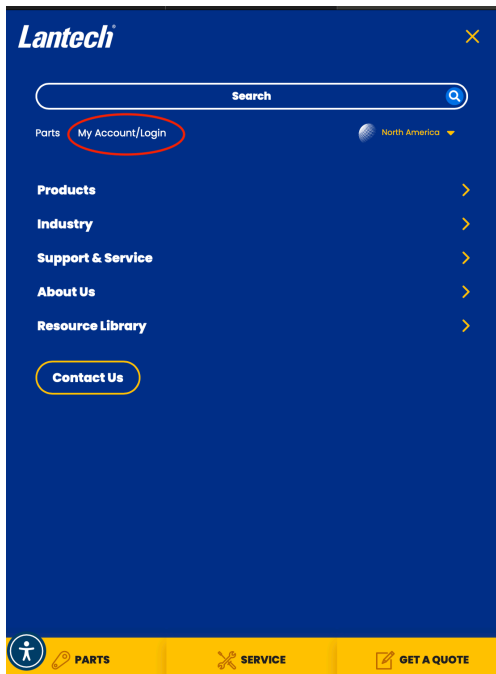

- If you already have administrator at your organization, you must request an account from your site administrator. They can add users from inside the LINC portal.
- Unlimited users are allowed underneath an administrator on the LINC portal (there is no cap or surcharge per user).
- Administrators must have a proper domain (e.g. @yourcompany.com) or be directly referred to Lantech to ensure secure ownership of the LINC subscription. We currently review every admin request to ensure our platform is both secure and accurately managed.

If you have any trouble with admin first-time login, or would like to change or add admin accounts, please reach out to us at linc@lantech.com.

After account activation is complete, you can access LINC anytime by logging into your account on Lantech.com from desktop or mobile:
